

Can I use financial aid if my employer pays tuition?

Last Modified on 11/03/2022 1:53 pm MDT

Students are able to accept financial aid while utilizing the employer reimbursement benefit. Please note that some employers will deny reimbursement claims if student loans are used to cover tuition. It is best to check with your employer first to see if they have any restrictions on the use of your tuition benefit based on your financial aid awards.
